

Directions to Holiday Junction

From the South:

Cross the Ohio river on I-75 north and immediately take the 1D exit: River Road / Rt 50 West. As that curves around, stay right and take the Linn St / Dalton Ave exit. At the bottom of that exit, go straight, you are now on Dalton and just crossed Linn St. Dalton curves back around to head north and you will see the Union Terminal dome ahead. There is a tunnel that allows Dalton to go under the Terminal plaza but that is blocked off during construction. Turn left into the parking area when you get right up to that tunnel.

All:

There might be a construction guy in a guard shack (not sure since it is a Saturday). Just tell him you are with GCGRS, the garden train group building an exhibit for Holiday Junction. Pull back into that lot and park. As you pull in, you will see a curved wall on your right. When that wall ends at the main building, there is a big overhead door. We go in right there, using the small man door next to the big one.

From the North:

South on I-75 to the Ezzard Charles Dr exit (1G). This drops you onto Western Ave. Stay on that and cross Ezzard Charles (passing the main Museum entry). Turn right on Hopkins St. and head west. Hopkins ends at Dalton. The Dalton tunnel is blocked off, so proceed across Dalton into the parking lot. See "All" above.

From the East:

Come across downtown on I-75/71 and take the option to head north on I-75. Stay right and get off at the Ezzard Charles / Liberty exit (1G). This becomes Winchell and takes you right up to Ezzard Charles. Turn left on Ezzard Charles and go 1 block to Western Ave. Turn left on Western, then right on Hopkins and west to Dalton, then see "All" above.

From the West:

Come down Glenway to 8th street to Dalton, then left on Dalton. Or – come down Rt 50 / River Road to the Freeman exit. Then north on Freeman, left on 8th and right on Dalton. If you come down Harrison, get on I-75 south and follow the north instructions.